DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Akagi et al (US 6,612,954).

Akagi et al disclose a drive belt (15) for a transmission (T) realizing a continuously variable transmission ratio comprising at least one continuous band (31), having a radially inwardly oriented surface (see Fig 3) and a radially outwardly oriented surface (see Fig 3), and an array of plate-like transverse elements (32) engaging said continuous band (31) such that the elements (32) may slide along a longitudinal direction thereof, which continuous band (31) is curved in a transverse direction at a non-infinite crowning radius of curvature R_{crown} and is provided with an internal residual stress distribution defining a curling radius of curvature R_{curl} at which a continuous band (31) would be curved in its longitudinal direction when cut, whereby during operation the continuous band (31) can be bent in its longitudinal direction at a minimum radius of curvature R_{min} and whereby a ratio between the curling radius and the minimum radius R_{curl}/R_{min} defines a pre-bending factor f_{PB} , characterized in that, the pre-bending factor f_{PB} satisfies the equation: $f_{PB}=(\delta_i+\delta_o)/\delta_o$ wherein: δ_i is the largest perpendicular distance in the radial direction between a neutral line NL in the cross section of the continuous band where the stress due to pure longitudinal bending would be zero and the radially inner most surface of the band and δ_o is the largest perpendicular distance in the radial direction between the said neutral line NL and the radially outer most surface of the band (inherent).

Response to Arguments

Some further comments regarding the applicant's remarks are deemed appropriate.

The applicant argues that the Akagi reference fails to teach the concept of the known curling radius in terms of a neutral line, δ_i and δ_o . Applicant has failed to provide evidence that the claimed invention is structurally different from the cited prior art.

Applicant's remarks have been accorded due consideration, however, they are not deemed fully persuasive.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
